

“The E-Tail Revolution”: How the Consumer-Driven Digital Economy is Changing the Way We Shop

George Gilka

CISSP, CISM, CISA

IT Security, Governance, Risk, and Compliance

CGI

Target Canada's closing sale just a underwhelming as its opening

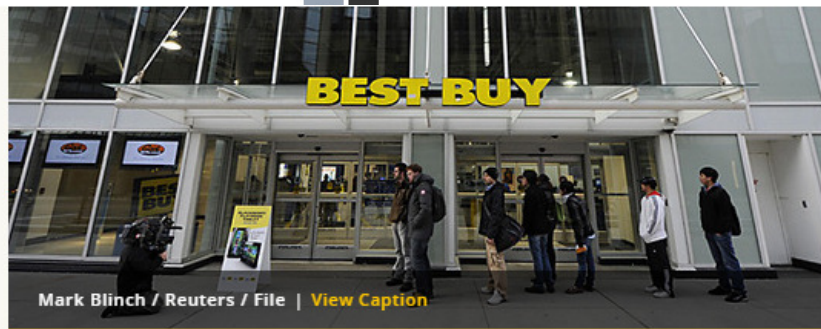

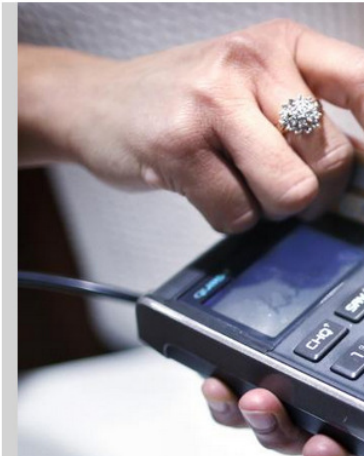

By Steve Merti | Daily Brew – 17 hours ago

BloombergBusiness News Markets Insights Video

Which Big Retailer Hasn't Reported a Major Breach -- Yet?

Retail Security Breaches 2014: Home Depot, Target Should Have Stronger Countermeasures, Experts Say

By Kathleen Caulderwood | @kcaulderwood | k.caulderwood@ibtimes.com | on September 09 2014 4:46 PM

Mark Blinch / Reuters / File | View Caption

In March 2011, hackers stole millions of names and e-mail addresses from the Dallas-based marketing firm. Epsilon handles e-mail lists for major retailers and banks like Best Buy, JPMorgan, TiVo, Walgreen, and Kroger. A study by CyberFactors, a cyber risk analytics company,

Consumer Loyalty

Fact or Fiction ?

Contributing Factors?

Where is it heading ?

What can be done ?